Avalanche danger

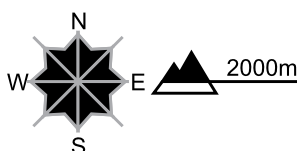

region A	Level 4, high
-----------------	----------------------

Fresh snow and snow drifts, old snow

Avalanche prone locations

Danger description

More snow than expected has fallen. Single persons can release avalanches easily. The snow sport conditions outside marked and open pistes are critical. The sometimes strong wind has transported the fresh snow. The fresh and somewhat older snow drift accumulations are prone to triggering. Natural avalanches are to be expected, in particular medium-sized ones. Exposed parts of transportation routes can be endangered.
