

In the early morning a widespread favourable avalanche situation will prevail. Wet avalanches during the day

Edition: 27.4.2018, 17:00 / Next update: 28.4.2018, 17:00

Dry avalanches

Dry, region A

Level 1, low

Snow drifts

As a consequence of fresh snow and wind snow drift accumulations will form. This applies in particular on north facing slopes above approximately 2800 m. The snow drift accumulations are only small. They are to be evaluated with care and prudence in terrain where there is a danger of falling.

Additional danger: Wet avalanches as day progresses (see 2nd map)
